

The EU and its Crises: From resilient ambiguity to ambiguous resilience - or beyond?

Workshop
ARENA, University of Oslo
23-25 November 2016

Day 1

Wednesday, 23 November 2016

Arrival of participants (Scandic Victoria Oslo Hotel, Rosenkrantz' gate 13)

Day 2

Thursday, 24 November 2016

9.30-10.30 Session 1

Studying the EU and its Crises: An analytical framework

Jozef Bátora and John Erik Fossum

10.30-12.30 Session 2

What kind of crisis and whose crisis is it? Conceptual considerations on the European migration crisis

Espen D. H. Olsen

EU and the Ukraine Crisis: Increasing Unity or Differentiation? (tbc)

Helene Sjursen

Did the Eurocrisis change what Europeans think about foreign policy?

Michal Onderčo

12.30-13.00 Lunch

13.00-15.00 Session 3

Holding experts to account: Lessons from EU Economic Reform discourse

Cathrine Holst

Interstitial organizations as crisis adaptation mechanisms in EU governance

Jozef Bátora

European solidarity in times of crisis: Towards differentiated integration

Asimina Michailidou and Hans-Jörg Trenz

15.00-15.15 Coffee Break

15.15-17.00 Session 4

EU Legitimacy and crises in Member States: The case of Slovakia (tbc)

Darina Malová and John Gould

A different union being created? Newspaper portrayal of the EU in crises in the Czech Republic, Slovakia and Hungary

Max Steuer

Crisis and disintegration: The paradigmatic case of the United Kingdom

Christopher Lord

19.00 Dinner

Bølgen&Moi Tjuvholmen, Tjuvholmen Alle 5

Day 3 Friday, 25 November 2016

9.30-11.30 Session 1

Wicked crises and legitimacy in today's European Union

Johannes Pollak and Sonja Puntscher Riekmann

Democratic implications of the EU's multiple crises

John Erik Fossum

11.30-12.30 Session 2

Conclusion and next steps in the publication process

Jozef Bátora and John Erik Fossum

12.30-13.00 Lunch