

UNIVERSITETET I OSLO

Tenure-track Assistant Professor or Associate Professor in Economics

Job description

The Department of Economics invites applicants for 1-2 tenure-track Assistant Professor (Postdoctoral Fellow) SKO 1352 or Associate Professor position SKO 1011. The opening is for a general research position including teaching and administrative duties. The position is open for all areas in economics and finance.

The appointment is a fulltime position for a period of seven years, including teaching duties and some administration. A formal midway evaluation will be held in the fourth year of the tenure-track period. At the end of the fixed-term period, the candidate will be evaluated for a tenured position according to the Department's criteria, specified in the employment contract.

More about the position

We are looking for a candidate with potential for outstanding research and teaching of high quality. The candidate should have achieved a PhD degree no earlier than 2017 (additional time may be allowed for leave related to childbirth or adoption) or expect to complete a PhD no later than 30 September 2022.

Candidates who have worked in a postdoctoral position for more than one year will be evaluated for a tenure-track Associate Professor position. Successful completion of a doctoral degree is a prerequisite for taking up the position.

The assessment of applicants is based on scientific merits, research potential, teaching, research leadership, administrative experience and personal qualities, as well as the Department's teaching obligations and long-term academic development. Personal suitability will be emphasized.

Women are encouraged to apply.

We offer

- Salary NOK 650 300-715 900 per annum depending on level competence
- Academically stimulating working environment
- Good pension benefits under the Norwegian Public Service Pension Fund scheme
- Good welfare benefits (e.g., parental leave)

Application

The application must include

- Application letter
- CV (summarizing education, positions, pedagogical experience, administrative experience and other qualifying activity)
- A complete list of papers and publications
- Up to three research papers

Letters of Recommendation (optional)

The application with attachments must be submitted in our electronic recruiting system. Please follow the link "apply for this job". Please note that all documents must be in English or a Scandinavian language. An interview will be a part of the hiring process, and candidates may be invited to give a seminar.

Application deadline: January 24th, 2022

Formal regulations

Please see the guidelines and regulations for appointments to Postdoctoral fellowships at the University of Oslo, and Regulations on appointments to tenure-track positions with supplementary provisions for UiO. A formal midway assessment will be held, which will be completed before the candidates has been employed for four years.

A candidate hired in a tenure-track position who is not an independent user (CEFR level B) of Norwegian, Danish or Swedish is required to enroll in Norwegian courses offered by the University of Oslo during the fixed-term period. A candidate hired in a tenured position is required to become an independent user (CEFR level B) of Norwegian, Danish or Swedish within the two first years to be able to participate actively in all the functions the position entails, including administrative tasks.

According to the Norwegian Freedom of Information Act (Offentleglova) information about the applicant may be included in the public applicant list, also in cases where the applicant has requested non-disclosure.

Inclusion and diversity are a strength. The University of Oslo has a personnel policy objective of achieving a balanced gender composition. We also want to have employees with diverse expertise, combinations of subjects, life experience and perspectives. We will make adjustments for employees who require this.
