

The Effects of ICTs on Well-being

Project workshop, 30-31 May 2016

NUPI, C.J. Hambros plass 2D, Oslo

Monday 30th May

9:30-10:00 – Introduction: Project team and participants

10:00-11:30 – Project's overview and theoretical framework

- ICT and well-being: Towards a theoretical framework
Fulvio Castellacci & Vegard Tveito
- The economic effects of ICTs: a survey
Per Botolf Maurseth

11:30-13:00 – Lunch

13:00-14:00 – Project's data and empirical methods

14:00-15:30 – Income-related effects of ICTs

- ICTs and well-being in China and India: a new survey data collection
Dibyendu Maiti
- ICTs and the death of distance
Arne Melchior
- ICT use and well-being in European regions
Fulvio Castellacci & Artur Santoalha

18:30 – Dinner

Tuesday 31st May

9:00-10:15 – ICTs, quality of work and job satisfaction

- Work life satisfaction and innovation activities: a study of the Norwegian MNE Telenor
Fulvio Castellacci, Ieva Martinekaite & Vegard Tveito
- Work life satisfaction for knowledge-based workers: an occupation-based approach
Clara Viñas-Bardolet

10:30-11:45 - ICTs, external environment and quality of life

- Green innovations, ICTs and well-being
Ed Steinmuller & Adrian Smith
- Police corruption, crime and perceived well-being in poor countries: Will ICT innovations make any difference?
Jens C. Andvig

11:45-12:00 – Status of project and next steps

12:00-13:00 – Lunch

Registration for external participants:

fulvio.castellacci@tik.uio.no